

Hi, my name is..

Jshaan Sangha

I am an aspiring Accounting major with an expected graduation year of 2027. After graduating, I would like to work in a Public Accounting firm. In specific, I would like to work with venture capital.

I am highly proficient with computers and have been using and experimenting with them since I was a kid. On a daily basis I work with programs like Final Cut Pro, Pixelmator Pro, Logic Pro, and Microsoft Word + Excel. I use Apple's creative suite for my own creative work (making posters, music, edits) and I use Microsoft's Office suite primarily for school work.

I was born in Fairbanks, Alaska and grew up in Anchorage, Alaska until I moved to El Dorado Hills, California in August 2021. I decided to transfer to the University of Nevada, Reno because it was the closest place that felt like home to me. As an Alaskan, you get used to the cold and 100+ degree summers are just not meant for me! I love movies and all that is to do with the art of filmmaking. I also love music and have started to experiment with making some of my own songs. One of my favorite movies is 'Uncut Gems' and my favorite song right now is '25WAGG3DOU2' by Lancey Foux. My current future goal/dream/aspiration for myself is to be able to buy a home by 30.
